

Familiarity breeds liking

To be in a good mood means to be extra careful not to make logical errors but it means also to be more creative.

Think and sense.

If you are depressed enjoy it, especially if you are in a power position, cause you ll find today a good handful of faults and scary facts which you ve had ignored during being optimistic and unrealistic.

Most people can t accept they were unlucky
they need a casual story

His favourite position is beside himself and his favourite sport is jumping to conclusions

(Danny Kaye)

We want things and persons to be consistent but most of the time we and they are not.

To be fair in your judgment beware of the halo effect.

Judge first all of the students, or all clients all first parts of tests, or first answers.
Because later you will want to have consistency and system 2 will get lazy

What you see is all there is *(Beware of the halo effect and priming)

A good presentation doesn't t represent good management skills*

One opinion is one opinion Get more information even if it might spoil your story

